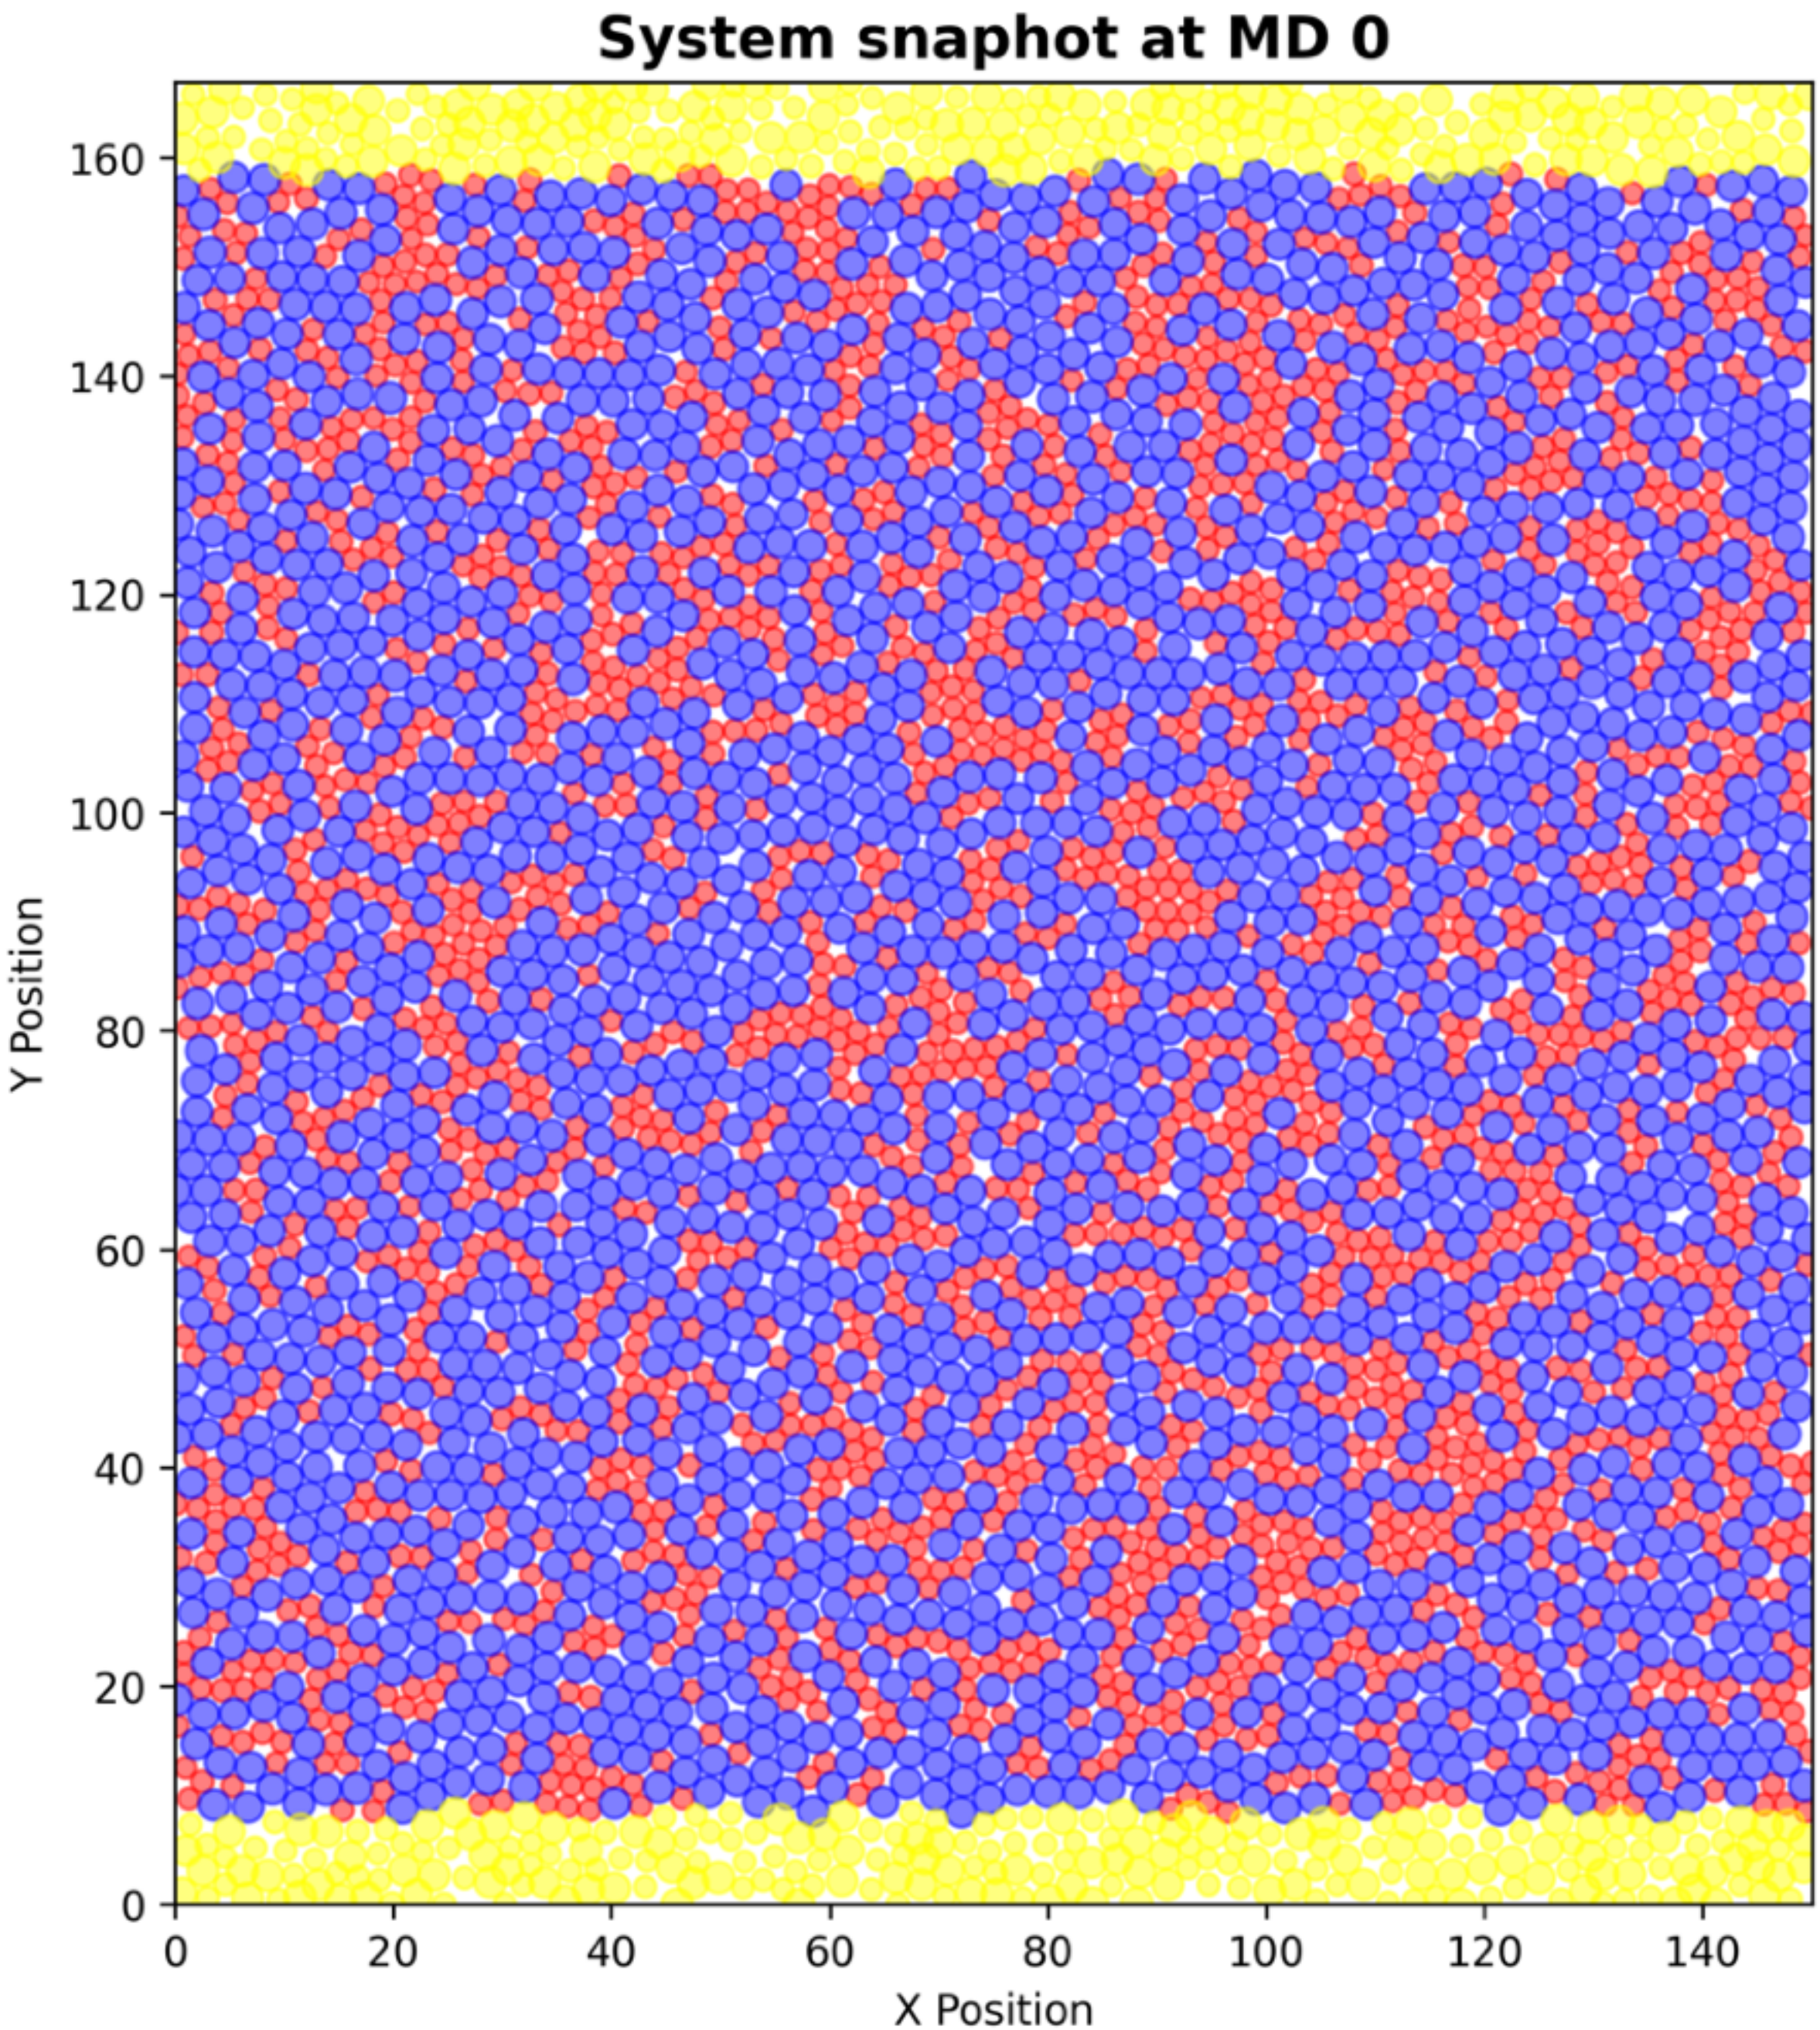
The physics of our parameter choices

- Simulation distance corresponding to GNN forward pass:

$$ET \times R_B \times MPL = 6 \times 1.4 \times 10 = 84$$



System snaphot at MD 0
Y Position
X Position
0
20
40
60
80
100
120
140
160
0
20
40
60
80
100
120
140

22

84
units

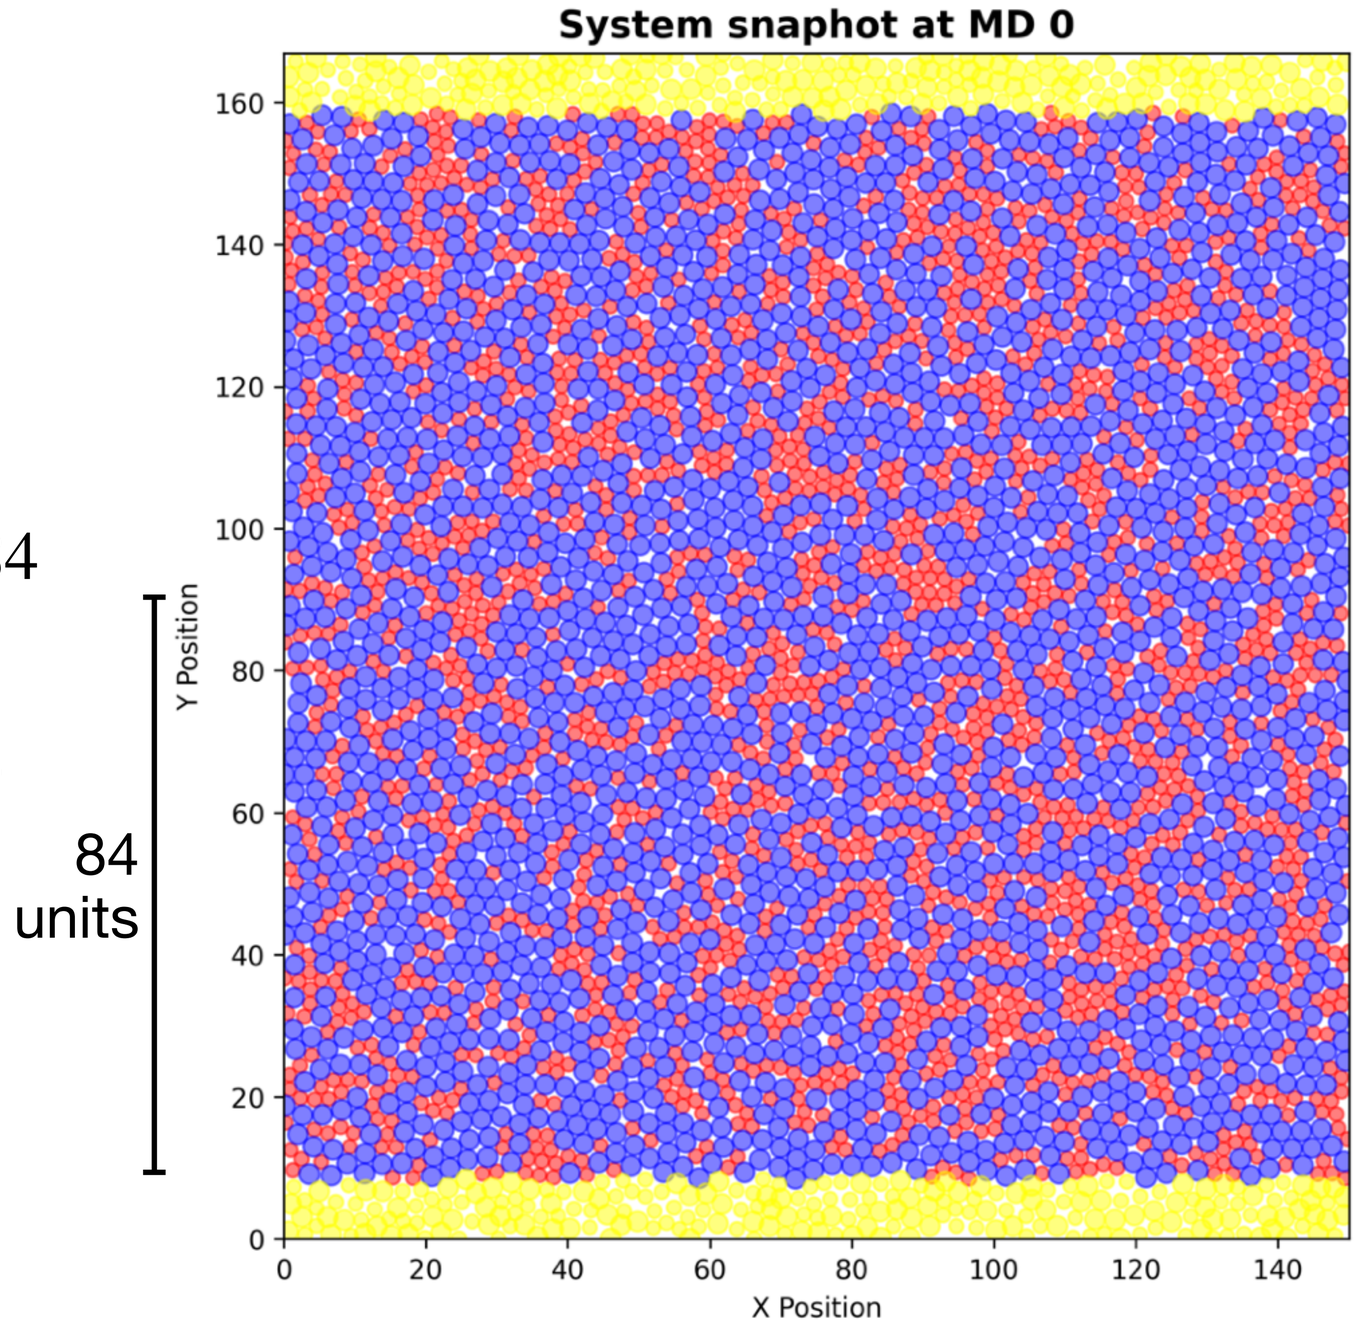
- Shear information reaches from the walls inward, but not further than half of grid box

- Can this GNN predict shear response in any regime?

The physics of our parameter choices

- Simulation distance corresponding to GNN forward pass:

$$ET \times R_B \times MPL = 6 \times 1.4 \times 10 = 84$$

- Shear information reaches from the walls inward, but not further than half of grid box


- Can this GNN predict shear response in any regime?